

WEI WANG

EDUCATION AND QUALIFICATIONS

- 2022 Doctor of Philosophy in Sociology, University of Oxford, UK.
Thesis Title: Changing Patterns of Marriage and Cohabitation in Post-reform China
- 2011 Master of Science in Sociology, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2007 Bachelor of Law, Peking University, China.
- 2007 Bachelor of Economics (Double Major), Peking University, China.

CURRENT AND PREVIOUS POSITIONS

- 2022 - Present Postdoctoral Research Fellow and Lead Researcher, Values-based Leadership in Low- and Middle-Income Countries Mapping Project, Department of International Development, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2022 - Present Consultant, Values-based Leadership for International Development Online Course, Department of International Development, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2022 - Present Research Associate, GenTime: Temporal Structures of Gender Inequality in East Asian and Western Societies, Department of Sociology, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2020 - Present Associate Fellow, the Oxford Character Project, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2022 External Lecturer, Saïd Business School, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2021 - 2022 Research Assistant, Department of Sociology, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2014 - 2017 Programme Coordinator, the Oxford Character Project, University of Oxford, UK.
- 2008 - 2010 Investment Analyst, Shanghai Greenland Group, Beijing, China

PUBLICATIONS

Wang, W., & Kan, M. Y. (2021). Changes in the Association between Education and Cohabitation in Post-reform China. In Chinese Families: Tradition, Modernisation, and Change. Emerald Publishing Limited.

Wang, W. (2006) The Establishment of Voluntary Organisation, in Voluntary Organisation Construction and Management, China Radio International Press [In Chinese]

TEACHING AND PRESENTATIONS

Methods in Social Sciences Research, Global Challenges and Future of Humanity Programme, Summit Education Enterprise, Oxford, 2019

Leading with Character, Positive Education Conference, Hong Kong, 2018

Cultivating Empathy, Social Innovation & Global Citizenship Internship Programme, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong, 2018

The Pressure of Leadership: How Institutional Incentives and Expectations Shape Our Character, Learning to Lead Conference, London School of Economics and Political Science, London, 2018

The Pressure of Leadership: How Institutional Incentives and Expectations Shape Our Character, Europaeum Scholars Programme, Oxford, 2018

Who Stays and Who Returns? Investigating Return-Migration in China. University of Skopje, Macedonia, 2014

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Gender studies, marriage and family, character and leadership, and comparative research.